

Reuters French News

Reuters French News brings you the news that matters on French companies, markets and government policy. It complements our renowned English-language international news, giving you an extra layer of coverage on the French markets, in French. Between 300-350 stories a day – many exclusive to Reuters – give you the news on the French markets that you cannot afford to be without.

“The fact that Reuters covers news in French from Paris is very important to us. It means a greater understanding of the local market and its major issues.”

Franck Motte Head of Government Bonds Trading – CDC Ixis

Your competitive edge

Reuters French News blends the power of Reuters worldwide network of seasoned journalists with local reporting expertise to bring you the major stories from France and abroad in a concise and analytical way. Our reporters have the contacts and the knowledge to provide you breaking news and market commentary to keep you ahead of the competition.

Tailor-made for the regional market

Our stories can help you make smarter decisions. Detailed coverage of the economy and the financial markets plus our often exclusive stories and highly regarded consensus estimate polls give you a comprehensive picture of the factors that affect companies and markets.

Independence and integrity

All over the world market professionals trust Reuters for its independence, integrity and freedom from bias in the gathering and dissemination of news. That's because Reuters is not aligned nor affiliated with any particular country, government or private interest. This is guaranteed by the Reuters Trust principles, which are overseen by an independent board.

Reuters beat its main competitors with the terms of Sanofi-Syntheabo's looming hostile bid for rival drugmaker Aventis. Reuters Paris led with 1) news that Sanofi would launch a bid next morning 2) news that Sanofi's offer would be 80 percent stock and 20 percent cash and 3) news that Sanofi would take a two billion euro restructuring charge linked to the deal. The story was cited by a wide range of competitors. Officials at Sanofi itself expressed amazement at how good our sources were on this high-profile story.
